Wheat And Flour

Conditions Unchanged
Buyers Still Wary
U.S. Quotations

CONDITIONS in the local wheat and flour market at present are unchanged from the preceding fortnight. Business in imported wheat and flour is indeed, lacking, buyers showing no disposition to take on any quantity at present prices. Although mills in Shanghai in general seem less inclined to grant concessions in their buying offers, a few have been quoting higher prices, but the chances of business are killed for the moment by the appreciation in values on the American market. The c.i.f. quotation for Pacific wheat is G.$43.00 per short ton, equivalent to Tls. 4.25 per picul of 133 1-3 pounds. This is an advance over previous rates.

The offer of the Shanghai flour mills to buy this grade reaches only G$41.50 per ton cif. Shanghai, or Tls. 4.15 per picul. New business is consequently at a standstill, but the general opinion is that within the next month there should set in a keen demand from Shanghai's flour mills for American wheat. The millowners will have to make provision for the Chinese New Year trade, and further supplies will have to be indented.

The attitude of the flour mills here is easily understood. Large quantities of wheat were contracted from the United States to arrive here in October, November, December and January. For the present they are assured of ample supplies. Wheat contracted for previously is arriving every week in steadily increasing quantities, averaging at present some 1,500 to 2,000 tons a week. There is still some 15,000 tons to be delivered to the mills against their past purchases, and the moment the major portion of these contracts begin to mature stocks will have to be augmented by the flour milling firms.

PRICE IS STEADY

The fairly steady consignments of imported wheat have not had the slightest effect upon the Shanghai market. The price of Chinese wheat is still maintained at its level of Tls. 3.75 per picul. The bulk of the arrivals are consigned to the local mills and the balance immediately transshipped to other Chinese ports or carried over into the interior. The amounts of Chinese wheat being despatched from the wheat districts into the Shanghai market are not increasing, and the flour mills are buying all that they can secure. If anything, these indigenous supplies are showing signs of falling off, and in proportion to the lessened supplies of Chinese wheat, the foreign grain will be in greater demand by the flour mills of Shanghai.

Attempts at bringing about some trade in Canadian wheat have so far failed. The Canadian holders are demanding G.$43.50 per short ton, c.i.f. Shanghai, but this price seems to be very much over the idea of the mills here. There is no desire to operate at the present levels, but should the American and Canadian markets register declines a big trade should result. For the time being, the mills appear to be marking time to see which way foreign prices go.

No business as well, has been possible in Australian wheat, which is quoted round £10.6.6 per ton for fag c.i.f. Shanghai. The local flour organisations are offering Australian sellers a price corresponding in sterling to what they are quoting the American holders. For over a month nothing has been reported in Australian wheat with the local mills, the purchases to arrive from Melbourne being some £50,000 worth of the cereal.

FOREIGN FLOUR

As in the case of imported wheat, the trade in foreign flour has suffered a serious slump. The purchases form a small total. The trade at present is limited to small parcels, bakers and jobbers showing unwillingness to place large orders so long as the prospect of large supplies still looms ahead. During the past few days

Washington, Oct. 29.—Two members of the crew of the submarine O-5, which sank in Limon Bay yesterday, have been rescued.

TURKS FORM REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT; KEMAL CHIEF

Angora Assembly Votes Death Knell Of Monarchy

CABINET RESIGNS

Victorious Leader Is Chosen First President

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Constantinople, Oct. 29.—The Angora Assembly today decided on a republican form of government and unanimously elected Mustapha Kemal Pasha President.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, October 29.—The Angora National Assembly has accepted the resignation of the Fethy Bey Cabinet.

The establishment of a Republic in Turkey and the election of Mustapha Kemal Pasha as President brings to an end one of the oldest and most autocratic empires in the history of the world and may be likened a great deal to the change in the Government of China that overthrew the Manchus and established a Republic.

Through many years the Turkish, or Ottoman Empire in Europe and in Asia, with territory in Africa as colonies or dependencies, was ruled by the Sultans, theocratic absolute monarchs, and Caliphs, or successors, to the Prophet, which made them the spiritual heads of the Moslem world. The uprising of the Young Turks, in which movement the newly elected President took a leading part, resulted in Turkey being granted a constitution in 1908. The Sultan, Abd-ul-Hamid, rescinded the constitution shortly afterwards, however, and another uprising resulted in his abdication and the succession by his brother as Sultan under the title of Mahommed V.

Intrigues continued, however, and there was constant political warfare between the Young Turks and the adherents of the Sultan. As a result of Turkey's disastrous part in the World War the Young Turks once more arose in power and formed a government at Angora which functioned in direct opposition with the Sultan's capital at Constantinople. For some time civil war between the two capitals kept Turkey in a turmoil but the internecine strife was

Turk President

Mustapha Kemal Pasha. INTERNATIONAL.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the brilliant Nationalist leader who led the Young Turks in their successful revolution overthrowing the ancient Ottoman Empire, and again came to the front during the Turk's negotiations with the Powers at Lausanne, has just been elected President of the Turkish Republic by the Nationalist Assembly at Angora, succeeding a line of Sultans and Caliphs who have ruled as absolute monarchs for hundreds of years.

HAPPIEST TRIP OF LIFE, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Former British Premier To Conclude Tour Of America

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Richard, Va., Oct. 30.—David Lloyd George, former premier of Great Britain, today visited the Civil War battlefields near here and then proceeded to Philadelphia.

Lloyd George is scheduled to make his farewell speech at New York on Saturday just prior to his sailing on the return voyage to England. Seats for his lecture appearance in New York have all been sold out and an overflow meeting has been arranged.

The former British premier declared today that his present tour of the United States and Canada had been the happiest trip of his life and that he was now convinced of the lasting qualities of British-American friendship, which, he asserted, was the most solid and greatest power for the restoration of world stability.

Shanghai's Exports To America Show Increase Of Nine Million Gold

Silk Shipments Jump Approximately $6,000,000 —Mah Jongg Exports Do Pole Vault—Furs And Egg Products Drop Off

An increase of nearly $9,000,000 gold in the value of exports to the United States passing through the United States Consulate-General here during the first nine months of this year over the same period last year is shown by figures just compiled by United States Consul-General Edwin S. Cunningham. Goods valued at G. $47,582,423 were shipped from Shanghai during the first 9 months of 1923 as against G. $38,709,080 last year.

Silk products showed a healthy increase. 2,396,464 pounds of raw silk valued at $16,73,866 have been exported so far this year as against 1,802,731 pounds valued at $14,103,043 last year and 1,317,974 pounds of wild silk valued at $5,565,035 have been shipped as against 502,895 pounds valued at $1,838,657 last year. Calls on the Chinese market for silk to take the place of the losses sustained in Japan are expected to swell the total to a much larger figure by the end of the year. Waste silk exports increased from $511,434 to $993,816. Pongee exports increased from $503,849 to $971,357 and silk piece goods and pierced cocoons also showed increases.

MAH-JONGG'S JUMP

One of the most sensational increases is recorded in mah jongg sets. Due to the great popularity the ancient Chinese pastime is now enjoying in the United States and the rush of Shanghai mah jongg manufacturers to fill orders and dispose of their sets while the game is at its crest every ship bound for America has been carrying large orders of mah jongg. During the first nine months of 1922, when the game was just beginning to attract attention among Americans in the homeland mah jongg sets valued at G. $56,292 were exported. So far this year sets valued at $849,833 have been shipped with many Christmas orders still unfilled.

Other outstanding increases in exports of goods, as shown by the compilation, include intestines, which jumped in export value from $487,786 to $1,131,056, and crude feathers, the export value of which increased from $455,831 to $725,154. 376 pounds of peacock fea-

OPEN STRIFE IN SAXONY AS REICH MOVES FOR CONTROL

Cabinet Is Defiant Of Orders From Berlin

TROOPS ACTIVE

Ministers Are Ejected; Reichswehr Take Buildings

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 29.—It is officially announced that Dr. Stresemann has appointed the ex-Minister of Justice, Dr. Heinze, a member of by the new Reich Commissioner, of the Reich in Saxony.

General von Mueller, Commander of the Reichswehr in Saxony, has prohibited meetings of the Saxon Diet until convoked by the new Reich Commissioner.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 29.—There is open conflict in Saxony between Doctor Heinze whom Dr. Stresemann has appointed Reich Commissioner of State in Saxony with almost absolute powers, and Dr. Zeigner's Cabinet, which refuses to accept dictation from Berlin.

Dr. Heinze, who was formerly a judge and was Minister of Justice in the last Royal Saxon Cabinet, has issued an ultimatum to the Ministers to surrender office.

(Reuter's Service)

Dresden, Oct. 30.—After ejecting the Ministers from the Government buildings, the Reichswehr occupied the Post Office and suppressed Communist newspapers. The Communists are trying to organise a general strike, which is opposed by the Socialists.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 29.—The Journal des Debats reports that the Separatist Government at Coblence is endeavouring to establish an acceptable position, especially on the subject of the currency question. Moreover, the Berlin Government also appears disposed to take like action.

No incident has been reported in the French Zone

The Separatist movement has spread in the Coblence district.

The Rhineland Republic has been proclaimed at Bruegen and in the neighbouring districts.

The Separatists have obtained the co-operation of a part of the Municipal officials.

In the Belgian zone there were some incidents at Aix-la-Chapelle and Walheim.

A very considerable increase is reported in the production of coke works and lignite mines exploited under the direct control of the Inter-Allied Mission. The occupied mines continue to sell coal at reduced prices to the poor and to furnish fuel to hospitals and schools.

HARVEY PLANS 'CLEAN SLATE' ON DEPARTURE

All Outstanding Points Are Settled Between U. S. And Britain

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 30.—A statement significant in relations between Britain and America was made last night by the American Ambassador, Colonel Harvey, at the Savoy Hotel at a complimentary banquet to celebrate Mr. T. P. O'Connor's seventy-fifty birthday.

Colonel Harvey declared that many settlements had already been made and he believed that the two or three outstanding would be disposed of before he sailed on November 3. His successor would have an absolutely clean sheet between the United States and the British Empire.

GEN. LU LAYS DISUNION TO WEAK POLICY OF DIPLOMATS

Powers' Recognition Of Tsao Causes Turmoil

CHIHLI MUST GO

Ousting Of President Only A Matter Of Time

BY JUNIUS B. WOOD
(Far Eastern Correspondent, Chicago Daily News)

Hangchow, Oct. 29.—General Lu Yung-hsiang, tupan of Chekiang province and in military control of Shanghai, does not anticipate any armed uprising against Peking before Spring.

General Lu may well be called China's greatest neutral and from his geographical position at the mouth of the Yangtsze Valley and economic and military strength would probably be the deciding factor in any contest for national supremacy.

Though rather non-committal on Dr. Sun Yet-sen's proposed rival government for China, General Lu plainly believes that the ousting of the Chihli party from Peking is only a question of time. In his opinion, this overthrow will be the result of outward pressure rather than from internal disintegration. It may be significant that Dr. Wang Ching-wei, confidential representative of Dr. Sun, has recently been in Hangchow for a conference with General Lu.

"The short-sighted policy of the foreign powers in recognising whatever faction happens to be in Peking as the government of China, is one of the strongest influences for keeping the country in a turmoil," said General Lu when he was seen at his yamen today.

PEKING A PRIZE

"In actuality Peking does not govern all China any more than do Mukden, Canton, Hangchow or other independent capitals. The indiscriminate recognition of whatever faction happens to hold Peking not only gives it a standing and unfair financial and political advantage over other, and more popular, governments in China, but makes Peking a prize which every faction is striving to capture by force or otherwise."

General Lu was asked whether in his opinion peace and order will be acquired in China through several governments or through uniting the entire country in a single government at Peking representative of all factions, if the latter can be accomplished.

"Dividing the country into several governments" even though they may be locally strong, tends to continue the distintegration into smaller and smaller units," General Lu replied. "China needs one government instead of the present numerous governments. The Powers should realise that Peking now is merely one of several governments and should use their influence to unite all the factions. They need a constructive program instead of merely a make-shift 'save-face' recognition of whoever happens to be in Peking."

NO TROUBLE YET

In connection with the report that Peking contemplates appointing a new civil governor for Chekiang without consulting General Lu, the latter was asked whether he anticipates trouble with Marshal Tsao Kun's followers. The General laughed heartily possibly at the suggestion, that an official could hold office in the province without his approval.

"In the few days since the Chihli party has been settled in Peking, they have not openly launched any trouble in this peaceful and prosperous province," he replied to the latter part of the question. "However, I am not so sanguine as to anticipate that they will not attempt to do so before long. We will meet the situation when it arises."

The General was asked about the frequent reports from Canton that he is one of the active leaders in the movement to start a second government in opposition to the one at Peking. Reference was also made to the possibility that Russia, from her

Bonar Law Dead After Long Illness

Former Premier Dead

ANDREW BONAR LAW

EX-PREMIER OF BRITAIN STRICKEN BY PNEUMONIA

Dies At London After Many Months Of Suffering

NATION'S LEADER

Played Prominent Role In Britain's Affairs

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

London, Oct. 30.—Mr. Bonar Law died today.

Mr. Bonar Law died at three in the morning at his London residence following an acute attack of septic pneumonia. His death causes a by-election in Central Glasgow.

Former premier, for many years a conspicuous figure in Great Britain's cabinet, and a parliamentary leader for almost two decades, Andrew Bonar Law has held the highest trusts which England bestowes or any man. How well he deserved the confidence reposed in him by the nation is best indicated by his steady progress from early parliamentary days until, just a year ago this month, the task of forming a cabinet and guiding Britain's destinies was entrusted to him.

The Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law was born on September 16 at New Brunswick, the son of the Rev. James Law, M. A. of New Brunswick, and Eliza, daughter of William Kidston of Glasgow. He was educated at New Brunswick, and later at the Gilbertfield School, Hamilton and the High School, Glasgow. He was parliamentary secretary of the Glasgow Board of Trade from 1902 until 1906, and Unionist member of Parliament from the Blackfriars division of Glasgow from 1900 until 1906.

For the next four years, Mr. Bonar Law was Unionist member from Dulwich division of Camberwell. In 1910, he contested the Manchester N. W. From 1911 until 1918, he was Unionist M. P. from Bootle division, Lancashire.

OPPOSITION LEADER

Between the years 1911 and 1915, Mr. Bonar Law held the leadership of the Opposition in the House of Commons, and it was during this period in particular that he attracted to himself the attention which later led him into the highest offices of the nation.

In 1915 and 1916, Mr. Bonar Law occupied his first cabinet position as Secretary of State for the Colonies. His administration of this office was such as to bring about his promotion to the Chancellorship of the Exchequer in 1916, a post which he held until 1918. He acted as plenipotentiary for Great Britain at the peace conference at Versailles.

In the fall of 1922, when the coalition which had carried Lloyd George through so many years of stress reached the breaking point, Bonar Law loomed large on the horizon as the one logical leader to pick up the situation where Lloyd George had left off and it was to him that the Throne turned to form the new cabinet.

His direction of Great Britain's affairs was characterised by a conservative and conciliatory policy, which safely weathered the earlier reprecussions from the Versailles treaty.

HALTED BY ILLNESS

Illness, however, had already undermined the health of the premier, and in May of this year, after having held office for approximately six months, he was obliged to resign, following the advice of his physicians that continuance in active public life would mean certain death. At that time, a minor operation was performed, and he was said to

"CHI CHUEN" IS LAUNCHED AT KIANGNAN DOCK

River Vessel Named By Miss Amelia Slack Of Hankow

The s.s. Chi Chuen built to the order of the Yangtsze Rapid Steamship Company, Inc. for service on the Upper Yangtsze was launched from the shipyard of the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Works yesterday afternoon. The vessel is designed to operate during the winter months between Ichang and Chungking, and in summer, above Chungking as far as Suifu.

The vessel was named by Miss Amelia Slack, niece of Mr. Hunter Mann of Hankow, who is the President of the Yangtsze Rapid Steamship Company Inc.

The Chi Chuen was ordered on August 6 and is expected to be completed and ready to begin on service by the end of November. This is no doubt a record piece of construction work, and the dockyard officials are to be congratulated, as also Messrs. Eisler, Reeves and Murphy, under whose supervision the vessel has been constructed.

The vessel has been constructed to the requirements of the American Bureau of Shipping (American Lloyds) for this special service, and her sub-divisions by athwartship bulkheads has been carefully considered to minimise risk of vessel sinking as result of contact with rocks or other obstruction in the rapids.

A distinguished party of guests, including American Consul-General and Mrs. E. S. Cunningham, attended the launching.

HEAVY QUAKE HITS MANILA; NO DAMAGE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Oct. 30.—A violent earthquake shock, the worst felt here since 1906, occurred at Manila this morning. It was followed by a shock in the provinces to the north. No damage was done here but details from the provinces have not yet been received.

INDIAN STATUS DISCUSSED AT IMPERIAL MEET

Representatives Of Dominions Reply To Speeches Of India's Delegates

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 29.—Reuter's Agency learns that today's Imperial Conference was devoted to the replies of the Dominions representatives to the speeches of the Indian delegates on October 24 in regard to the status of Indians in the Empire.

The replies revealed general agreement with the proposal, submitted by Dr. Sapru, that each Dominion should appoint local committees to investigate the possibilities of carrying out the 1921 Imperial Conference resolution. Dr. Sapru further suggested that these committees should collaborate with a representative of the Indian Government, having the status of a Governor, who would be assisted by a number of non-official Indians.

It is believed that the only dissentient was General Smuts, who not only disapproved but advanced the theory that the fact of being a British subject did not bestow the right of franchise in a Dominion.

It is understood that the Duke of Devonshire, while agreeing with Dr. Sapru's proposal, intimated that the British Government was not prepared to go back on its Kenya decision.

Fengtien-Chihli Truce Is Sought

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 28.—As the result of a special meeting the other day of Parliamentary representatives from Chahar, Jehol, Suiyuan, and the Three Eastern Provinces, six delegates were appointed to interview the leaders of the Chihli and Fengtien parties in order to make effective the peace parleys between the two parties. Mr. Wang Yu-shao and two other M. P.'s will approach the Chili faction, while Mr. Pi Wai-yuan and others will interview the Mukden authorities.

have been recovering, but he never regained his old-time vigor.

As a member of the War Cabinet from 1916 until 1919, Mr. Bonar Law played a highly important role in the formulation of Great Britain's financial policies, and it was largely due to his vast knowledge of world economics, that Britain was enabled to maintain her solid financial status despite the great drains made upon her by the heavy demands of the Allied cause.

Throughout his career in Commons, Mr. Bonar Law was an outstanding figure, and his assumption of the leadership of the Unionist faction was a natural consequence of his own high ability and sound thinking.

Mr. Bonar Law in private life was formerly Chairman of the Glasgow Iron Trade Association; a member of William Kidston and Sons, iron merchants of Glasgow, and William Jacks and Co., iron merchants of Glasgow and well known throughout the Far East.

Mr. Bonar Law was married in 1891 to Miss Annie Pitcairn, daughter of Mr. Harrington Robley of Glasgow, who died in 1909. Of this marriage there were two sons and two daughters.

Turks Organize New Government

overshadowed by Turkey's relations with the Powers. Mustapha Kemal Pasha, and his able supporter, Ismet Pasha, soon gained control of Turkish affairs as a result of Mustapha's brilliant successes with his army and Ismet's diplomatic ability.

Turkey slowly began resuming considerable importance in world affairs under their leadership and for a time gave the Powers considerable worry by their flirtatious negotiations with the Bolsheviks. The conferences at Smyrna and Lausanne placed the Turks in a most advantageous diplomatic position, many neutrals regarding the Lausanne treaty as a brilliant victory for Ismet Pasha, and the long-haunted nickname of 'The Sick Man of Europe' was thrown into the discard.

The emergence of the new Turkey in the form of a Republic copied after the United States and France was forecast by the recent action of the Nationalist Legislature in changing the capital from ancient Constantinople to Angora in Anatolia, and the downfall of the Pethy Bey cabinet.

President Mustapha Kemal Pasha will now assume constitutional control of the government he has been administering for several years from behind the scenes by virtue of his command of the Nationalist Army. He will have in Ismet Pasha who has conducted most of his diplomatic work, a most able assistant, and Turkey should make rapid strides forward under their dual leadership.

Gov. Wood Back From Mindanao

(Exclusive China Press)

Manila, Oct. 30.—Governor-General Wood has returned to Manila from Parang Island where he went with General Read at the time of the outbreak of Moros when thirteen Filipinos were killed.

General Wood said that the trouble had started because of the Moro's dislike of certain practices in the schools and also because of their opposition to certain taxes. The trouble, he said, was not widespread, but was confined within close limits on Parang Island.

General Wood sent a representative to the Moro leaders to discuss the questions at issue and was assured that there would be no further trouble. Scout troops and the Constabulary are standing by ready for action if their services are needed, however.

Report Adopted By Labor Parley

Honest Parliament Man Returns Home To Friends Plaudits

(China Press Correspondence)

Hangchow, Oct. 30.—Chiao Sze-pin of Yenchow, representative in Parliament for Chekiang province returned to his home today. Representative Chiao's reception told the story of whether China is awake to public affairs and the integrity of its officials.

According to the story in circulation here Representative Chiao was one of the members who received a check for $5,000 to vote for Tsao Kun for president. The records of the Da Yu bank in Peking do not carry any entry indicating that the check was ever cashed. It was accepted, but not presented for payment; and according to the friends of Mr. Chiao, it was delivered to the Minister of Justice as proof that bribery was used in accomplishing the recent election.

Today Mr. Chiao came home. He was met at the station by a military band and 250 fellow citizens of Yenchow, the home city of this worthy representative of Chekiang province in the national parliament. Students, merchants, teachers, and members of the Provincial Assembly were in the crowd which greeted his return.

It was a vociferous greeting, and every greeter carried a banner. These banners were silent tributes to the returning representative and after all is said and done they do set forth the appreciation of the nation and its people toward honesty and public righteousness. Among the sentiments were the following commendations of Mr. Chiao and his courageous stand:

"Light of the family, the citizens and the nation.

The triumph of character. Righetousness as glorious as the heavens."

"The only sober and wide awake.

"He has done what others were afraid to do.

"He would not surrender to force, not be deceived by fame."

Descending hesitantly from the train Mr. Chiao was given a hearty cheer, led out through an aisle of banner-bearing admirers to his waiting carriage, and driven to the Yenchow guild for his first reception. After a visit of four or five days here, Mr. Chiao will go on up the river to his native city of Yenchow. He is a hero in the eyes of the Chekiang people, and he will be pointed out an example to the youth and an honor to the citizens throughout the province.

own reasons of international diplomacy, might give its recognition and support to such a rival government.

SIR ROBERT'S PLAN

"Dr. Sun Yat-sen and Marshal Chang Tso-lin are apparently on the best of terms," he replied. "Dr. Sun is hopeful of starting a second government, but it is a difficult proposition. Should China unfortunately require two governments, it will not need Russia's aid in starting the second one. Personally, I disapprove of splitting the country into several governments, though such a radical step may be necessary if the faction in control at Peking is not representative of the entire nation.

"General Wu Pei-fu's dream of unification of China through military force cannot succeed. It must be accomplished by peaceful methods and by considering the wishes of the people and leaders in all parts of the country. Sir Robert Hotung's proposal for a round table conference is commendable but it is too big a proposition to be accomplished by one man."

General Lu added that the different leaders who had approved of the proposal when approached by Sir Robert became supporters of the conference and committed themselves to carrying it through to success. He felt that he had indicated that his efforts would be in that direction.

"The foreign powers in the role of third party would have a powerful influence in bringing the rival leaders together and making such a conference a success," he declared.

ily vacated the Ministerial buildings but immediately met in council elsewhere.

The Reichswehr have seized the Parliament buildings and arrested some Communist deputies and leaders there.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, October 29.—The London newspapers publish a statement showing what the French Government considers to be the powers of the committee of experts. It recalls, in the first place, that, in conformity with Paragraph 7, Annex 2, Part 8 of the Treaty, the Reparations Commission has the right to appoint a committee, the measures taken by which are not necessarily a part of the work of the commission, to obtain details of which the latter is in need, whilst the Reparations Commission preserves its powers intact. It results from Paragraph 9 of the afore-mentioned Annex that Germany can be heard by the committee of experts but cannot participate in it. The statement recalls that, whilst the Reparations Commission can determine the methods of payment or the German debt, it cannot make any reduction, a unanimous decision of the creditor Powers being necessary for that purpose. France insists on the total of obligations fixed by the Reparations Commission. The Commission will meet shortly to consider the German Note of October 24.

(Reuter's Service)

Duesseldorf, Oct. 29.—The Rhineland High Commission have reached an agreement with Herr Krupp, who has been released from prison for a period of seven days, whereby the latter will pay one-half of the coal tax arrears of his firms immediately and the remainder later. The agreement also reserves to the Allies 20 percent of the output of the Krupp mines.

Tokio, Oct. 29.—It is reliably reported that, though the question is at present of an informal nature as far as Japan is concerned, she regards the British proposal to invite America to take part in a reparations conference as timely and will willingly associate herself with Britain in the matter.

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Oct. 30.—Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes today said that he had as yet not received from Paris the detailed conditions of the French proposal for an inquiry in the matter of reparations but that judging by press reports, they contained nothing that would be unacceptable to America.

Still Another Armed Robbery Reported

Shanghai's seventy-seventh armed robbery so far this year was reported to the police yesterday. According to the report three men, armed with pistols, entered a shop at 1346 Boone Road about 10 o'clock on Monday night and robbed the premises of $160 after frightening two women who were present. An alarm was raised and one of the robbers was arrested a few minutes later on Haining Road. $60 of the loot was discovered on him. A search of the surrounding alleyways revealed the weapons used—three water pistols.

A highway robbery was also reported to the police yesterday by a woman who was walking through an alley off Haining Road when three men robbed her of a gold finger ring and $2.60. No arrests were made.

Big Trade Gains Recorded In U.S.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 29.—The Federal Reserve Board's reports show that during the last six weeks wholesale trade has been the largest for three years and retail trade has increased 9 percent over last year. Employment has been maintained at the recent high level. Production has decreased 5 percent compared with highest point in May. Contracts for business in industrial buildings and the production of iron and steel have decreased. The railroads have continued a high rate of deliveries of all kinds of commodities. Prices of fuel, building materials and metals have declined, but the prices of clothing, foods and farm products have increased. Commercial loans reached a new high record.

Shanghai Exports To America Gain

thers valued at $2,957 have also been sent to the United States this year.

NEW FUR STYLES

New styles in furs worn by American ladies of fashion are forecast by the increase in the export of mouflon furs from 7,200 pieces valued at $8,517 last year, to 187,941 valued at $368,828 this year. The price increased with the apparent growing popularity. Dogskin mat exports also increased from $61,640 to $217,294 but other furs and skins showed decreases.

Chinese peanuts, after being absent from the American peanut-roaster wagons for a year, are coming back strong. Last year only $11,641 worth were exported from Shanghai, but the peanut-eating Americans have already taken 2,572,526 pounds valued at $117,555—enough to fill several million nickel bags—so far this year.

AND MORE TEA

Tea parties, perhaps inspired by the new vogue of mah jongg teas, are responsible for the increase in tea exports. Last year Americans drank 9,447,050 pounds of Shanghai tea valued at $1,206,456, and already this year they have brewed 12,236,953 pounds worth $1,960,702 if they have consumed all that has been shipped. Camphor exports increased from $449,196 to $636,869.

COTTON BETTER

Last year 213,212 pounds of raw cotton worth $38,075 were shipped out of Shanghai and this year 1,925,795 pounds valued at $425,982 have gone forward. Waste cotton exports also increased in value from $84,682 last year to $255,469 this year. Human hair exports showed a big jump from 65,360 pounds valued at $14,747 last year to 382,161 pounds valued at $177,264. China grass exports, which were nil last year, amount to $106,008 so far in 1923. Bristles exports increased from 123,758 pounds valued at $147,502 last year to 220,292 pounds valued at $370,931 this year.

Some egg products showed increases, others decreases. Dried egg exports dropped from $1,447,297 to $1,359,459, and frozen egg products showed a falling of from $598,729 to $233,118. Last year no dried egg yolks or egg albumen were shipped but this year dried yolks valued at $306,858 and egg albumen valued at $738,761 were shipped out of Shanghai for American ports.

FUR INCREASE

Fur exports generally show a decrease, mink shipments decreasing from $106,496 to $60,666; squirrel from $14,102 to $4,540; kolinsky from $94,391 to $55,818; weasel from $757,362 to $569,856; marmot from $9,655 to $386, and racoon from $54,023 to $25,883. Fox exports increased by approximately $5,000; rabbit increased from $3,007 to $32,505, and sable, exports of which were nil last year, were $30,347 this year.

Buffalo hide exports decreased from $122,084 to $143,579. Cow hide exports remained stationary. Skins export generally decreased deer and doe skins dropping from $92,083 to $61,635 and goat and kid from $3,145,785 to $2,636,148. Sheep and lamb skin exports showed a healthy increase from $41,718 to $396,643.

Chinese wood oil exports dropped off from $206,162 to $25,030, while peanut oil, which was nil last year, totalled $40,290. Vegetable tallow, also nil last year, amounted to $24,418 this year.

FEWER HAIR NETS

Embroideries showed a decrease in export value from $1,925,524 to $1,486,859, and wool carpets dropped off from $149,046 to $123,772. The export value of hair nets decreased from $1,564,020 to $1,022,147.

Unmanufactured wool also showed a big decrease, going from $716,422 last year to $363,974 this year. Jadeware decreased from $54,858 to $27,126. Crude and oxide antimony showed increases, and antimony, regulus, in which the biggest business is done, increased from $238,895 to $280,515. Gold bars exports showed a decrease of approximately one million dollars, gold value, dropping from $5,281,310 to $4,224,028. Gold coins export also decreased from $781,402 to $25,006.

Musk, used in perfumes, increased from $54,594 to $79,281.

BARNES DIVORCE JUDGMENT TO BE GIVEN TODAY

Husband Denies Allegations Of Cruelty And Adultery

At the conclusion of the testimony in the case in the British Supreme Court in which Mrs. Isobel Bain Barnes is suing John Oliver Barnes for divorce on grounds of cruelty and adultery yesterday Sir Skinner Turner announced that he would give judgment today.

Mr. Tycho Wing, on behalf of Mr. Barnes, denied the allegations of cruelty and said that Mrs. Barnes had not realised the danger of hiring a detective to secure evidence in a divorce proceedings on payment by results. Mr. Barnes, Mr. Wing said, was an old soldier and while he probably was not as polished as Mrs. Barnes might have wished and might have used rough and ready language such could not be called cruelty.

The witnesses for the plaintiff, Mr. Wing said, were brazenly prejudiced. The only two witnesses concerning the alleged adultery, he pointed out, were two female relatives of the woman and it was notorious that in such cases, they were more royalist than the King. Mrs. Roach, the plaintiffs mother, had also greatly exaggerated, he said, when she said she had seen Barnes sober on only one occasion.

BARNES ON STAND

In his evidence Barnes denied the allegations of cruelty generally. He had never beaten her or struck her, he said, and could remember no occasion on which he had used filthy language toward her. When she went home in 1914, he continued, they had parted on good terms and he had even stood her a bottle of champagne. He also denied allegations that he was a habitual drunkard, pointing out that working as he was he had no time to go on sprees.

TWO QUARRELS

In England, he continued, they had been up against it financially because he had lost his leg in the war. He denied allegations of cruelty toward her, however, and said their were only two instances when he had in any way hurt her. On one occasion at Carshalton, he said, he had pushed her and she had fallen and hurt her head. She had told her mother at that time that it was a good thing he had pushed her, otherwise she would have brained him.

On another occasion she was struck with a poker, he said. He was lying down and she had branished the poker in his face. He had warded off the blow, he said, and she had hurt herself slightly. It was not his fault, however.

After returning to Shanghai, Barnes said, relations between himself and his wife were very strained because of another man. They did not live together after a couple of months here, and after they had separated Mrs. Barnes had suggested that they be divorced so that she could remarry. Barnes also denied allegations of non-support. He had paid the bills and provided for the schooling of the children until March, 1922, he said. Since then he had been out of work a good deal of the time and had no funds.

DENIES ADULTERY

Barnes denied the allegation of adultery at the Trocadero made by Mrs. Barnes. On returning home to the Trocadero on July 9 at 2:15 a.m., he said he found a woman in his bed, and, of course, he could not sleep on the floor so he slept in the bed. He had seen the woman before occasionally when she was in the Cafe having a drink. At 4:20 o'clock he found a head looking through the small window of the door and he called out, "Who are you?" and he heard a voice say "Jack Barnes, you are caught." He thought a friend of his was playing a joke he said. The door was burst open and Mrs. Monkman rushed in, followed by his wife, a Chinese, and the foreign man stopped outside in the hall.

What happened next?—Well I think she had a drink.

Have you been able to ascertain how the lady got into your bed that night?—I believe she went into No. 6 room and from there she was put into No. 3 dining room and she went to the coolie and asked him where Mr. Barnes's room was and turned in. I could have brought a witness for this occasion—the assistant manager —who, unfortunately, has gone to Hongkong.

Had there been directly or indirectly, any sort of arrangement, on your part, that this lady should go to your room on that night?—No.

In answer to Mr. Kentwell, Barnes said: I told the woman to get out of my bed. I said to her, "What are you doing here? Get out of it." She replied: "Dearie, it is too late, I cannot do it."

CROSS EXAMINATION

In answers to question by counsel and Sir Skinner Barnes made general denials of drunkenness and cruelty. He also denied that he had not supported his family. Concerning the incident when he was alleged to have been drunk at Shepherds he asserted he was not drunk. Mr. Shepherd, he said, was 'a poor fish.'

Mr. Kentwell asked whether or not it was a fact that he barely ever went home to meals.

"It is not a matrimonial offence not to come home to dinner," Sir Skinner cut in.

Later Sir Skinner also said that drunkenness was not a matrimonial offense either.

In addressing the Court Mr. Wing pointed out the tremendous variation in the evidence and the case as set out in the petition. The latter did not contain any allegation of drunkenness whatever, and there had been no corroboration of the story put forward by petitioner's family. Only one witness had been called to corroborate—Mr. Shepherd, and counsel said that that corroborative evidence was biassed. The evidence as to adultery was not such that it could or should safely be believed. The detective who was engaged by the petitioner in the matter had not been called, commented Mr. Wing.

Mr. Kentwell admitted that they had not called the detective, but pointed out that the other side had not called the woman. He submitted that adultery must have been committed.

Sir Skinner—There is one active period of cruelty at Carshalton where he hits his wife with a stick. What other is there?

Mr. Kentwell—In Tsongchow Road, in 1911.

Sir Skinner—That is 12 years ago and the parties have come together several times since that.

Can you give me a case where it has been held that subsequent adultery will revive a single act of cruelty committed 12 years before?

Mr. Kentwell quoted the case of Knight v. Knight, Green v. Green and Palmer v. Palmer. Counsel pointed out that there was cruelty at Shepherd's in 1919.

CYCLIST BRINGS ARMED ROBBER TO MUCH GRIEF

Speeds After And Trips Up Fleeing Thief

A quick-witted Chinese with a bicycle was responsible for the capture of an armed robber on North Chekiang Road Monday night after the thief and two companions had held up inmates of 1346 Boone Road securing money and jewelry to the amount of about $160.

The three men, all wearing black masks and carrying black water pistols, entered the house at about 9 p.m. They presented the imitation firearms at the woman of the house and demanded her rings and earrings, which she gave them. They then took her keys and locked her in a downstairs room, while they began ransacking the house. The woman, however, went to a window and raised the alarm, whereupon the trio fled. A Chinese named Sang Tsen, who happened to be visiting a friend nearby, saw the fleeing men, mounted his bicycle and sped after them. Overtaking the accused, he ran the front wheel of his vehicle across the path of flight, spilling the accused and enabling a Chinese constable to effect his arrest.

Stripped of his mask, the accused, Yoen Bing-yoong, was identified by the victim of the robbery as a man who had come to her house with her nephew about a year ago.

Yoen insisted that he is a relative of the woman and that he did not go to the place for the purpose of committing a robbery. He admitted, however, that he was wearing the mask so as not to be recognised. A quantity of the missing jewelry was found on his person.

The Mixed Court yesterday found Yoen guilty and remanded the case a week to enable the police to make further inquiries.

The Art Department of the American Woman's Club holds its regular meeting on Thursday, November 1, at 9.30 a.m. Miss Lucille Douglass has arranged to give an address on fashions and dress design and will have one or two dress models to show.

Wheat And Flour

a fair-sized trade has resulted in American flour at G.$5.35 per barrel c.i.f. Shanghai, mostly for January-February shipment.

The price of Chinese milled flour is around Tls. 2.02 per sack, while American flour works out at G.$1.35 per sack or, at present exchange, Tls. 1.93 per sack. There is a steady flow of arrivals from the United States, being something on the average of a thousand tons per week. Australian flour is quoted higher than American, being at about £11 per ton c.i.f. Shanghai, or Tls. 2.02 per sack. There have been recently no transactions either in Australian or Canadian flour. In the case of the latter the Chinese merchants do not seem to favor this grade. The stocks of flour in the hands of the local mills are estimated to amount to about 200,000 sacks. There is a good demand for the commodity from Chinese ports and the export is maintained at a steady rate. A fair margin of profit is being yielded to the flour mills at present prices. In spite of the fact that holdings of the mills are heavy and show no sign of dwindling the past several weeks, there is little weakness in the Chinese flour market. The fluctuations are very small. The output of the mills is being disposed of easily, and no anxiety is expressed on the score of sales. Chinese flour has stood for a long while round Tls. 2.02 per sack.

The Tientsin and Hongkong merchants have been inquiring for Pacific Coast flours for early shipment. It is only in exceptional instances that exporters on the other side can secure ocean space for prompt shipments, but Pacific Coast mills which have been able to obtain space have made sales. It is stated that there is considerable inquiry going to the United States from northern China ports for flour for January, February and March shipment, but as the steamship companies are not willing to quote space for so far ahead, few of the American flour mills are willing to take a chance on this business.

Maclezowa To Dance Tonight At The Olympic

At her ballet-concert at the Olympic Theater tomorrow evening, Mlle. Xenia Maclezowa, former premiere danseuse of the Diaghileff Company of Russian Dancers, will be seen in "Chopiniana," excerpts from the ballet "Esmiralda", and Drigo's "Foulie." She will also perform the "Valse Triste" (Sibelius) and Hungarian dance, "Chardash." The concert side of the entertainment will include a Grieg Ballade and Rachmaniolf's Polishenelle by her husband M. Serge Maclezowa, at the piano.

Mme Tomanskaya of the Moscow Opera, is singing extracts from "Tosca" and "Les Hugenots."

Mlle. Maclezowa, according to critiques appearing in the New York newspapers, where she was leading dancer at the Metropolitan, is Pavlowa's only rival. Other members of her company were also given warm praise for their ability in American and North China reviews.

The utility of Horlick's Malted Milk and Lunch Tablets is almost unlimited, and the public and members of the Medical and Nursing professions are well acquainted with its value, and can easily recommend it as a highly nutritious diet for Invalids and Convalescents, and also as a perfect food for Infants.

It is particularly suitable for use in tropical climates, where it is difficult to obtain supplies of fresh milk, and where dysentery, malaria and other similar complaints are prevalent. It is an ideal food from infancy to age, and practical experience has fully endorsed this claim.

Not only does it ensure the healthy growth and development of children, and furnish a light and suitable diet for those enjoying the quiet days of age, but it has been exceedingly popular with Athletes, and those engaged in strenuous activities.

Horlick's Malted Milk is a light easily digested and highly nutritious food beverage, which strengthens, invigorates and builds up strong flesh, bone and muscle Business men have come to look upon it as an excellent quick lunch and pick me up.

It can be obtained from all Chemists and large Stores, and is packed in four sizes.

Provided the stopper is kept screwed down it will keep practically for an indefinite period in any climate.—adv.

BRAND FACES OF DEALERS IN JAPANESE WARES

Boycott Association In Hankow Closed By Tuchun

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Oct. 26.—The Hankow Diplomatic Association, the anti-Japanese boycott organ, was sealed up by order of Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan, who further authorizes the arrest of such agitators as may attempt to resist the order. The step was taken by the Tuchun, it is reported, upon the protest of the Japanese Consul-General of Hankow.

The anti-Japanese radicals, aside from seizing Japanese cargoes and imposing heavy fines on merchants dealing with the Japanese, even went so far recently as to take the cruel step of stamping with corrosive ink the three characters of "Wang Kuo Lo" (meaning the slave of a pariah nation) on the face of persons found in possession of Japanese goods. This they calculated would leave a life-long mark on the man's face so that whenever and wherever he went out, he could be easily discerned as a slave to Japanese.

The above method of punishment was taken exception to by the authorities. Another factor that displeases the officials is that among the constituent organisations forming the association are whose activities were repeatedly several outlawed labor unions, banned by the officials.

Great International 18 Mile Walking Race Arranged For Dec. 16

Preliminary Meeting Held At New Carlton Cafe, At Which Dr. O'Hara Was Elected President; Another Meeting Next Friday

By Wesla

Preliminary arrangements were made last evening for what undoubtedly will be the biggest sporting event in Shanghai this winter, towit, an international walking race.

If present plans carry, and there is every indication that they will, the race will be held on Sunday, December 16, over a course measuring approximately eighteen miles, yet to be selected. The race will be a team affair, with a specified number of walkers representing each nation, but with cups and other prizes for individuals as well as for teams.

At the preliminary meeting, which was held last evening at the New Carlton cafe, a committee was named to prepare an agenda for a larger meeting that has already been called for next Friday evening at the same place. At this meeting a definite program of arrangements for the race will be drawn up, and rules and regulations formulated to govern the event.

At last night's meeting Dr. O'Hara was elected president of the Association, and Mr. N. Webb, of the S.M.C. Revenue department was chosen Honorary Secretary. In addition to these officials the following were named as a provisional committee: The president and secretary, and Messrs. Johnson, Tilley, Rodger, Young, Rozario, Gerrard, and Wilkinson.

O'HARA PRESIDENT

Last night's meeting was called by Mr. Percy Tilley, who spoke briefly and then asked that a temporary chairman be named. Mr. W. L. Gerrard, of Duncan and Company, was named for this position, with Mr. Webb as Secretary. Mr. Gerrard then called the meeting to order and asked for nominations for president. A number of names were offered, after which a ballot was taken, and when these were counted it was found that Dr. O'Hara was the almost unanimous choice.

Last night's meeting was well attended, representatives of several nationalities being present, and it was the belief of all who attended that a walking race such as the one proposed would not only prove beneficial to the participants, but interesting to the rest of the town. Mr. Gerrard, the acting chairman, called for suggestions as to the best time for holding the meeting and after some discussion it was proposed to fix the date for December 16. This will give the intending contestants some six weeks to train.

Some were in favor of a short race—ten or twelve miles; but the majority felt that if the distance were held to this limit it would result in most of the contestants dropping out before the finish, due to the temptation to set too fast a pace in the early stages. It was then generally accepted as the sense of the meeting that the distance should be the same as in the earlier walking races held here a decade or two ago, namely, about seventeen or eighteen miles.

THE RULES OF THE RACE

Some of the old timers present recalled that the earlier walking races in Shanghai created a tremendous amount of interest and brought along old newspaper clippings to show that practically the entire foreign population of the city turned out on those occasions to witness the finish.

The rules to govern the contest will very likely be a modification of those which obtained in the first big international walking race in Shanghai, which was held in October, 1904. The rules for that race and those which followed were:

1.—The walking must be heel and toe.

2.—Change of step allowed whenever required but one foot must always be on the ground.

3.—A stumble may be overlooked by the umpire, who however has discretion in the matter.

4.—Should a competitor fail to conform to the above rules the umpire shall have power to make him stop and turn around once. If he offends a second time he shall be required to stop and turn around twice, and for a third offense he shall be disqualified.

5.—Pacemakers shall be allowed to accompany the competitors, afoot or on bicycles. If any pacemaker interferes with a competitor he shall be warned by the umpire, and if he interferes a second time the competitor for whom he is making a pace shall be disqualified..

6.—No jostling shall be allowed. A man passing another must allow reasonable room.

At next week's meeting the rules for the race will be drawn up, and there will very likely be quite an argument over the matter of pacemakers. Some long distance walkers are opposed to pacemakers altogether, and the forthcoming race may be left to the walkers alone, without any outside aid. Another matter that will call for considerable discussion is that of policing the course, as with the large number of motor cars now in use it will require some sort of systematic effort to keep the road cleared for the walkers. For every walker in the race there will be sure to be a thousand jay walkers cluttering up the course, and these will have to be kept out of the way. Here will be a job for the boy scouts, and if interest in the event develops as the promoters believe it may be necessary to have the Volunteer Corps on the job to keep the road clear, especially at the finish.

WORK FOR COMMITTEE

All these and other questions are to be tackled immediately by the general committee, so that all arrangements will be complete before the day of the race. In the meantime it is known that numerous prospective walkers are preparing to begin training immediately; hence those who have corns had better lay in a supply of bluejay plasters immediately, as well as make early engagements with their pedicurists, for with all the walkers in town preparing for the big race the foot specialists will have but little time to devote to their regular customers.

The S.M. Police are taking a great interest in this race, and it is betraying no secret to say that they figure on grabbing all the prizes. Among those at last night's meeting were Inspectors Johnson, Dunn and Young, and Sub-Inspector Tom McKenna of the Mixed Court.

In the earlier walking races held here the French won most of the big prizes, and will try to repeat in the forthcoming contest. The Americans are sure to have a strong team, as will the British. The Portuguese were well represented at last night's meeting and it is known that they are counting on cleaning up in this as they have in other sports recently. The Japanese were not represented at last night's meeting but they will be at the one next Friday.

It looks, therefore, like this is going to be a great race, with all the walkers in town competing for prizes—all except two. For two famous walkers there will be no chance in this race—Jay and Johnny.

Hanbury Students Receive Prizes For 1923 Victories

The new hall of the Thomas Hanbury School for Boys was crowded last evening with scholars, parents, and friends on the occasion of the sports prize-giving. The hall was tastefully decorated with plants and flowers, and the table of prizes made an imposing spectacle.

The Russian Cadet Band opened the program with a rousing overture. Other events followed in rapid succession, all thoroughly appreciated and heartily applauded; the most popular of course being the distribution of the prizes. The proceedings closed with a short speech by the games master, and three rousing cheers for Mrs. C. P. Dawson who distributed the prizes. The prize list follows:

Papyrus Home; Return Match In England Possible

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 29.—Papyrus has arrived at Southampton from America. His trainer, Mr. Jarvis, described the track after the rain as being like a skating-rink. He was confident that, with better going, Papyrus would have won. Mr. Jarvis expressed the opinion that a return match would be run in England if enough money were forthcoming.

Godown Employes Charged With Theft From Holt's Wharf

Two godown employes from Holt's Wharf appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday before Assessor Jacobs and Magistrate Kwan charged with participating in the theft of four cases of worsted stuffs valued at Tls. 2,000.

Mr. Lipson Ward, who appeared to prosecute, stated that one of the accused was the No. 1 himself and his assistants in the godown keeper and that he had thefts. The Court ordered the case remanded until Nov. 7 and ordered warrants to issue for the arrest of five others named.

MANY FORGERIES BY BOY IN OFFICE OF SECRETARIAT

Youth Uses Name Of Mrs. Benbow Rowe On Compradore Orders

An astonishing list of forgeries in which the name of Mrs. E. S. Benbow-Rowe, wife of the Acting Secretary of the Municipal Council, was used by an office boy employed in the Secretariat, came to light Monday when the youth was taken into custody by Detective Sergeant Hendry. The boy was brought into the Mixed Court yesterday and sentenced to nine months' imprisonment by Assessor Jacobs and Magistrate Kwan.

In all the accused forged 23 compradore orders for an aggregate of $671 against Mrs. Benbow Rowe's account. His method was to secure a blank compradore book, fill out the order and counterfoil and have one of the office coolies present it to the compradore and obtain the money. When the orders came into the office at the end of the month he would secure and destroy them. The forgery was discovered on Monday when an order for $40.50 came up for scrutiny. The signature was compared with the handwriting of the various office employes and suspicion fell upon the accused. He at first denied the charge but later confessed that he had forged the 23 orders between August 18 and October 16 and had spent the money for various things, some of which were recovered.

6 Chihli Aviators Desert With Plane And Join Chang

Six Chihli aviators, peeved because they had not been paid for several months, recently deserted, flying away with a big airplane, and joined Chang Tso-lin, according to the Wan Pao, Chinese newspaper of Peking. The flyers landed near Ching Hsien and informed the officer in charge, General Chang Tso-hsiang, that they wished to enter the service of the Mukden warlord as they understood his soldiers and officers were well—and regularly—paid. The men were eventually signed up by the Manchurian warlord and given a bonus of $500.

Opium Sellers Get Jail Terms

Convicted of keeping opium for sale at 291 Kiukiang Road, two Chinese were sentenced to one month's imprisonment by Assessor Jacobs and Magistrate Kwan in the Mixed Court yesterday.

The place was raided by Sub-Inspector Hermitage, Sergeant Eva and other officers Monday night and as the search was being made Sergeant Eva saw one of the inmates throw some opium and a pair of scissors used in cutting up the drug into the alleyway. The pair of scissors plunged into the back of a small boy who happened to be in the alleyway. A quantity of opium which was seized was ordered confiscated.

Sound Currency Vital To Sweden

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Stockholm, Sept. 13.—At the dinner of the Savings Banks Association of Sweden at Gothenburg Mr. Beskow, the Swedish minister of Finance, laid special stress on the importance of a sound currency policy. The general opinion now seems to be, he said, that Sweden should make every effort to maintain the old gold parity now attained, and from all signs there are no insurmountable obstacles in the way of holding the position gained.

The Symphony Concert

By placing for the first time a work like Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration" on the program, the orchestra enters a new phase in its development. The modern composers, considering that they could not improve on the form of the symphony as written by Beethoven and Brahms, searched and found another form of expression for the great orchestra. While Lisst may be regarded as the father of the symphonic poem, Richard Strauss gave with his tone poems, among which "Death and Transfiguration" is his first and best known, something quite new.

In this piece, he still works on the foundations given by Wagner and in the first place he wants an elaborated orchestra. The rendition of our orchestra, supplemented with some amateur talent, was quite surprising. Instead of six first violins, we noticed about twelve, and nine second violins, so that we got a full toned and warm ensemble.

The wind instruments should get better acquainted with this music, but there is already a real picture of the work. We hope it will be repeated.

The soloist, Mrs. Vanderburgh, sang two of Mozart's arias and three Strauss songs, which delighted the audience and evoked much applause and the presentation of many baskets of flowers.

Mr. Fox, in his violin solo, "Tomorrow", also pleased the audience greatly.

After the interval Tschaikowsky Symphony in E. Minor No. 4 was given by the orchestra.—G. Z.

Three Russian artists found a fairly good audience and a grateful one at the Olympic last night. Miss Balanovska has a powerful dramatic soprano and a dramatic temperament. Mr. Labinsky has a good tenor voice which he uses with skill, while the pianist, Mr. Simpliss Brian is an excellent artist. It was a pity that he had not a better instrument at his disposal. —G. Z.

Wedding

LIPPE-EIDELMAN

The culmination of a pretty romance took place at the American Consulate yesterday when Miss Esther E. Eidelman was united in marriage to Mr. John M. Lippe, Rev. Mr. Hallock officiated. Mr. Frank Blackinger, leader of the Winter Garden orchestra, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown of the Winter Garden were witnesses. The bridegroom is one of the most popular musicians in Shanghai.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Brown were hosts at a reception and dinner at the Winter Garden, during which congratulations were offered by the many friends of the young couple. Interesting in this connection was the receipt by the bride on the day of the ceremony of letters from her mother and brother who reside in Russia, of whom she had had no tidings in several years and whom she had given up as lost.

The Correct Feeding of Infants

No attempt to provide a correct system for the progressive feeding of Infants was ever successfully carried out until the "Allenbury's" Series of Infant Foods were introduced. So successful have the "Allenbury" Foods Nos. 1, 2 and 3 proved, that, whenever a child is denied the privilege of the mother's milk they are indispensable.

Plan Government University In Sianfu, Shensi

Plans are well under way for the opening of a Government university at Sianfu, Shensi, according to THE CHINA PRESS correspondent there. The school is intended to be modelled after the Government school at Peking. It is planned to call it Northwestern University.

Prof. Grover Clark and Fu Pei-chien of Peking have been retained by the Governor of Shensi to act as advisors in the educational scheme. They became interested in the project last July when they were in Sian as members of the Educational Institute.

Wuchang Mint To Reopen Soon

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Oct. 25.—The Government Mint of Wuchang is now in the hands of Mr. Wang Lien-cheng, a protege of President Tsao Kun, and will reopen at the beginning of the next month. The Mint has recently ordered 3,000,000 piculs of copper ingots, and crucibles are on their way to Wuchang from England. Extensive coining of coppers will be undertaken for the next six months.

Tan's Troops Are Besting Chao's

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Oct. 25.—Definite information has been received that the northern forces and Chao Heng-ti's troops in Hunan are on the losing side of the battle with Tan Yen-kai. There has been a persistent rumor that Changsha has been taken by Tan, and Chao has taken his flight to Milo. The report has not been confirmed at reliable sources.

CHANGSHA HIT BY HEAVY GUNS OF BOTH SIDES

Hospitals Are Filled With Civilian Wounded After Battle

Chengtu, Oct. 15.—Our Chengtu citizens at present are wrathful over the depreciation of the currency and the introduction of paper money.

For a year or two the Government has been gathering in the small cash pieces and minting 50, 100 and 200 cash pieces. The profit they secured thereby has been fabulous. Few of the 100 and 200 cash denominations were coined at first but gradually the 50 cash pieces were dropped out; six weeks ago the 100 cash pieces were dropped also and now only 200 cash pieces are being issued.

The inconvenience caused to the public by this wholesale and shameless procedure has been exasperating. One town solved the difficulty by having its chamber of commerce issue paper notes for 10 cash, while the pawn shops issued bamboo slips for 5 cash.

The Chengtu tea shops to do business at all created a system of giving paper receipts whereby a customer could pay in 200 cash and receive a receipt or set of checks for it and use these daily until they were all returned. A few days ago the Government put a stop to these. No checks must now, they say, be used as it is interfering with the proper circulation of currency. In other words they find they cannot dispose of so many 200 cash piece if this goes on. The 200 cash pieces are only worth in actual value about 40 cash.

Then the daily squabbling all over the city over the new paper dollars is fierce. No one will take a paper note unless forced. The Government is so shaky that all fear they will not be redeemed.

Lin Yu Kiu the Civil Governor and Hsiung Keh Wu the Military Governor are at loggerheads. Both wanted control of the mint and the latter forced in his own man. This does not lend, of course more stability to the already shaky administration. Had Chungking fallen, it is said, that the two here would openly have quarrelled. But sheer necessity holds them together.

On the anniversary of the Republic they invited all foreigners to a function at the Foreign office. But the British Consul-General and his nationals did not attend as a protest over the refusal of the Government to make any adequate settlement of the Watt-Whiteside murder case. Meantime all Britishers are requested not to traved. What the end will be no one knows.

WAICHOW STILL HOLDS OUT; SUN TROOPS BEATEN

Reinforcements Reach City Despite Siege By Cantonese

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Oct. 28.—Waichow has not yet fallen, and the troops under the command of General Yeh Chu, some 2,000 strong, have of late entered the city after breaking through the siege of the allied Cantonese troops. Consequently, the besieged forces are about to take an offensive attitude.

In the meantime, the Yunnan troops have been defeated in the district of Pingshan and are fleeing along the Canton-Kowloon line. Hoyuan and Lungmen have also fallen into the hands of General Chen Chiung-ming's troops, but the troops under Generals Hsu Tsung-chi and Chu Pei-teh have encountered and defeated General Chen's troops in the district of Lungmen. It is expected that sooner or later the two contending armies will fight a decisive battle.

On the other hand, fighting in other districts is assuming an aspect against the allied Cantonese troops. In view of this gloomy prospect of the situation coupled with extreme financial difficulties, it seems more than probable that Dr. Sun's scheme of despatching a punitive expedition to the North will not be put in force for the present.

The Yung Hsiang and three other warships of small size, which have been at anchor near the Generalissimo's headquarters, secretly fled in the direction of Macao last night. The reason why they have taken this step is, it is reported, due either to the instigation by General Chen Chiung-ming's faction, or to the non-payment of the military funds in arrears.

WU ENDORSES BANDIT DRIVE; TO SEND TROOPS

Plan For Extermination Of Honan Marauders Wins Support

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, October 29.—General Wu Pei-fu has telegraphed to the Government that he agrees with the plans of General Chang Fu-lai for the extermination of the bandits in Honan and to assisting the latter by sending troops from the First Division and also by enlisting the assistance of General Wang Wai-wei, the Military Commissioner of Kweiteh.

The Commissioner of Foreign Affairs of Ichang on October 25 informed the foreign Consuls that General Hsiao Yao-nan had instructed him to request foreign ships not to proceed to Chungking, which is in the hands of Szechuenese troops. If the warning is not heeded the Chinese authorities would decline responsibility in the event of ships being attacked. The communication further warns foreign ships against transportation of arms and munitions, which is not only inimical to the Chinese plans for bandit suppression but is violation of neutrality.

It is reported that a Japanese steamship company at Ichang has temporarily suspended sailings to Chungking.

The new magistrate of Ichang has ordered the arrest of eight men concerned in an attack on Chinese merchants on October 24 on the ground that they were handling Japanese goods and has also closed a newspaper for publishing anti-Japanese propaganda.

Mr. Hsiang Hsiang this morning assumed his duties as Vice-Minister of Finance.

New silver currency minted in celebration of the election of President Tsao Kun as the first President under the Constitution reached Peking from the Tientsin Mint today to the value of $100,000.

Every Morning at Breakfast take a draught of SANATOGEN

This will give you that extra nerve-energy which makes you feel "fit" and fresh all day and it will save you from Heat prostration

SANATOGEN in the morning means a better day's work—means that you feel brighter, fresher, and keener all day, in spite of the exhausting heat, while your powers of resistance to typhoid, cholera, dysentery and nervous disorders will be enormously increased.

TRY IT!

SANATOGEN'S power to increase nerve-energy has been definitely proved, in the words of Sir Charles A. Cameron. C.B., M.D., etc. President of the Royal Institute of Public Health:—

Sanatogen is an excellent nerve-food of the highest nutritive value, easily and completely digested.

GET A BOTTLE TO-DAY
ALL CHEMISTS SELL SANATOGEN

Never forget that Sanatogen is a food, not a medicine or a "secret remedy." It increases nerve-energy by feeding the nerves—not by goading them with drugs or stimulants. Its action is as natural as that of any ordinary food: it must do good, and it cannot do harm. That is why doctors give it even to babies. And that is why so many Europeans in the East take Sanatogen regularly, all the year round—not as an occasional "tonic," but as a part of their daily diet. You should do likewise, if you want to keep your nerve-energy at the highest pitch, and to avoid the debilitating effects of the great heat

The Stranger Within Our Gates

THERE is so much loose thinking about the Russians that have sought an asylum within the borders and environs of Shanghai, that now, when the fast approach of winter renders the whole question increasingly urgent of solution, it would seem advisable that our readers should know something of the situation. Advisable for two reasons—firstly, because even greater demands may possibly be made on our charity this winter than last and, secondly, because it may become necessary to take corporate action to relieve that want with which these unfortunate people are faced.

Those best enabled to appreciate facts concede that the record of the Russian refugees in Shanghai is remarkable good. There are about seven thousand of them, the majority of whom are suffering varying degrees of destitution. Some are Bolsheviks, others—the larger proportion—are Whites and it is not a fact peculiar to the Russians, that whether they be Red or White, they have the same capacity for suffering and enduring the same pangs of hunger, the same misery of want, as any other race. On that score they deserve the utmost consideration. They are facing their struggle with a gallantry that must commend itself to everyone, their ratio of crime compared with their numbers is small and where they can, they are to be found making every endeavor to obtain an honest living. A people living in the circumstances in which the Russians find themselves in Shanghai is deserving of every sympathetic consideration.

But, having conceded as much as we have, let us look at the other side of the picture. We have a section of the community, more numerous than we Americans and almost as large as the British amongst us, with the meagrest chances of earning sufficient subsistence, kept out of employment by the cheaper wages of the Chinese, whatever money they have as a whole disappearing to meet the needs of the individual, and the prospect of another winter before them. We cannot think of any other white race which would bear its lot with more fortitude. And something has to be done for them.

What that something should be has puzzled the brains of many able men in Shanghai and a solution of the problem is not yet in sight. The first suggestion that comes readily to anyone who pauses to give the matter a moment's thought is to find work for them—create it if possible, or at the least find openings for them amongst the ranks of labor in the most important port of the Orient. Could this be done, it would be the best solution, for it would not have the disadvantage of straightforward charity which so often tends to pauperise the recipient. We dont suppose for one moment that it would be extremely difficult to find a means of making destitute Russians pay by work, for the food and shelter given them, but the question arises, have we the right, and is it wise, to embark on any industrial project which might be considered to encroach on the rights of Chinese labor? For we have continually this proposition before us, that with each Russian placed in a position there is a possibility that a Chinese will be displaced. It is not particularly fair to the Chinese, who have more right to consideration in this respect than the Russians and might very well tend to exacerbate the feelings of Chinese labor which is never wholly unsusceptible to irritation.

If, therefore, an industrial solution seems almost impossible, two other alternatives are presented, one, the disbursal of out-and-out charity or an extension of the scheme of repatriation which is already afoot. Apart from the ill-effects of pauperisation which is always a very real danger, such a course is open to the objection that it amounts to buying-off trouble, a method which as history has shown time and time again, in more universally important questions in the end defeats itself. At the same time it is possible that Shanghai may, in part, have to adopt this method, not as a solution, but rather as a means of ameliorating conditions which are undoubtedly bad in the extreme. When it is adopted, however, it should be carried through by a central organisation capable of producing the best results with the smallest possible expenditure of money.

Repatriation on the other hand seems in the long run the wisest. To the sentimentally inclined, the doctrine of self-preservation which underlies it, may seem brutal, brutal in that it means sending these people back to the very places and conditions from which they have striven so hard to escape. Yet, in these columns, a few days ago appeared a report that one thousand Russians had left Harbin for their native places, presumably because Harbin at this time of the year is no bed of roses for the destitute. Nevertheless, we are not disinclined to favor the move made in this direction during the past three months, though we fear that without some means of preventing the influx of other refugees to fill the places of those we send away, the process may become a never ending burden. We cannot make Shanghai water-tight against the Russian refugee any more than we can against the Chinese. If we could, we should be able to meet the situation with better chances of success than we have at the present time. We cannot keep them out, we do not want them here, but those that are here are remarkably well behaved and for that reason deserve every sympathy in that consideration of the problem we—especially Americans and British—must ultimately give the matter.

Tolerance, that most blessed of virtues has involved Americans in our history in almost as much difficulty as its negative and while we have been able to close our borders to the refugee and effectively control the flow into the United States, Shanghai has not the same ability through constitutional defects. And in any event the matter is one for the whole community, one on which all sections should speedily come together, for the stranger within our gates is getting too numerous for our comfort as well as his.

Commentaries

VARIOUS and many are the new ordinances framed annually by the Hongkong Legislative Council. A recent proposal is aimed at preventing piracy. It is novel in some respects for the new regulations demand of the officer of every ship employed in the carriage of merchandise and passengers on the China Seas an effort "in resisting to the utmost" any piratical attack. Just why the Hongkong authorities should go out of their way to introduce a measure which has for its object the inculcating of discipline is not very clear. This particular clause is, no doubt, useful in its way, but the man-in-the-street has always assumed that in the mercantile marine discipline is enforced in the whole rank.

How the Government of the Southern Colony is going to enforce this it is somewhat puzzling to us. The defence of a ship attacked by pirates on the high seas should certainly be left to the discretion of the master in charge, and not made an obligation. If the ship's crew is overwhelmed by a battalion of pirates raiding the vessel then it would certainly seem a silly proposition for a handful of men to fight this overwhelming majority armed cap a pie.

We have recent instances showing the folly of such indiscretion. The steamer Tai On, if we recall correctly, was burnt by the pirates because the officers resisted them. The safety of the vessel and that of the passengers, it would seem, was imperilled by this lack of discretion, and were opposition not offered in the manner it was done it is quite likely that the Tai On would not have suffered in such a fashion. In almost every outrage of such a nature that has taken place recently, and the number is growing very fast, there appears the hopelessness of any defence by a small band of officers and crew.

If the Hongkong Government is really serious about its intention of making the defence obligatory then all that we can say is that it will inevitably entail great risks for the ship and the passengers. While we have not been able to see the full measure of the views of the different sections likely to be affected by this novel regulation, we would imagine that the shipowners would certainly be opposed to this. To our way of thinking the regulation requiring the master and officers of the attacked ship to discharge their duties conscientiously does not require Government enforcement. There has been no complaint of a serious nature on this score, and if vessels have been surrendered it was principally because the master realised the folly of stoutly opposing the pirates. The draft regulation that is causing much heart burning is the following:

"It is the duty of the master and other certificated officers to resist to the uttermost any piratical attack. This obligation is imperative and no discretion may be exercised as to whether to resist pirates or not."

"It is indeed very useful, but extremely difficult, in the light of the examples of vessels pirated in recent years, to enforce it.

JOSS

The event of the season, the Champion Stakes, is drawing near, the pilgrimage to the basement at the Race Club is in full swing, and already no more of the pink joss slips are to be had and white ones marked "B" are given out instead. Who are to be the lucky birds this time? It all depends on "Joss". Many of the Griffins in Shanghai may not appreciate the significance of this all-important word of the East. Let us look up the Encyclopaedia Pidgin-Anglicana and see what it says:

Joss, (Chinese corruption of Portuguese deos, god, Latin deus), a Chinese household divinity, a Chinese idol.

Joss all time pay you rice chow—May you never suffer want.

Joss heade—Rosary.

Joss Boat—Lucky ship, a ship protected by the gods.

Joss can savvy—The gods only know.

Joss Book—The Holy Script.

Joss Chow—Sacrificial food, or food fit for the gods.

Joss cumshaw—A talisman or charm.

Joss day—A lucky day.

Joss fire—Phantom light.

Joss House—Temple. Foreign man Joss house—Church.

Joss man—Priest. Foreign man Jossman—missionary.

Joss no want, how can do —Do not act against destiny.

Joss Paper—Sacrificial gilt paper.

Joss pidgin—Affairs of the joss, religion.

Joss pay no sick—Wishing you the best of health.

Joss stick—Incense stick.

Joss woman—Priestress or nun.

All same joss—Like a joss, quiet, good natured.

Bad joss—Unfortunate, misfortune, cursed.

Believe joss—Trust in the gods.

Belong bad joss—It is an ill omen.

Belong joss pay you—A gift of the gods (for instance a son)

Chin chin Joss—worship.

For joss—To get good luck.

Good joss—Good luck, favored by the gods.

Go chin chin joss—Go to church.

Have got joss—to be in luck.

My Joss—My luck, Kismet.

How Many Hairs Came Out Today?

The New Discovery.
GERMOL
Holds Hair Tight in the Scalp.

Stop worrying now, if you see yourself getting bald. There is one way to stop your hair from falling, and to make it grow in the most luxuriant manner. GERMOL is the new discovery that produces this amazing result. The first few days will prove it. GERMOL brings about such great vigor in the hair roots that the root-sacs grip the hair strands. The result is that your hair not only stops falling but grows luxuriantly, and it brings back the original, youthful color to the hair. It is not, of course, a hair dye. Your dandruff will disappear as if by magic, and scalp itching will stop. GERMOL is easy to use, and has a pleasing odor. As a hair invigorator, and a safe means of bringing grey and faded hair back to its original color, it has no equal. Stop your hair troubles from today on: use GERMOL.

WHAT IS LOVE?

IS the answer the same through the ages, or—
DOES Love vary with each generation?
IS Love now, after such a climactic event as the World War, different from the love of the days of our fathers and mothers?

By DAVID BELASCO

Author of "Madam Butterfly," "Girl of the Golden West," and a score of successful plays. Producer of many more.

"Love is the only thing that matters; the one thing that counts; the only thing that tells in the long run. Nothing else endures to the end. Love tells the whole story. Love built my plays, love guides my characters out of the depth of my experience.

I can say that the longer I live the more I despise the so-called material things, and the more I see that love is the really big thing; the important eternal thing. We must carry affection into our work to bring expression because all that happens again, as Peter Grimm said, King Solomon said it before them, there is nothing new under the sun that is felt by all artists and men and women in the business world, so the best we can do is take a fresh viewpoint of old matters. In the theater we call this treatment, and treatment performs miracles. Love in the theater is taken very seriously. There is a certain element which is greatly to be desired in a play. We call that element the heart interest. The appeal to love is not only necessary to the drama, it is the keynote of all the arts, of all sciences of all business. It is the foundation, the mortar, the bricks, the beams, and the thing itself. Nothing in the world is so tremendous as a thought, and a love thought is overwhelming. Love is the controlling power."

BY BRUNO LESSING

Voltaire defines love as "the embroidery of the imagination upon the stuff of nature." This, whether one agrees with it or not, is a clear-cut, comprehensive definition expressed in twelve words. Can anyone give a better definition in twenty-five words?

Below are a few short definitions from readers:

A definition of Love more convincing than Voltaire's is the one that Otto Steiger of North Bergen, N. J., believes he is sending:

"Love is Nature's mover of propogation of mankind which functions through the human sensibilities, manifesting itself in a person through the creation of that consuming desire paramount. To have, to hold and to cherish body and soul of some one of the opposite sex—based upon physical attraction, exalting, impelling marriage upon reciprocation."

"Love is the sunshine which warms and brightens our lives."—D. Jones.

Mr. S. L. Millard Rosenberg of the Southern Branch, University of California, states that while Voltaire's notion of Love has his endorsement, he believes Heine more nearly hits the mark:

"The devil calls it torture.
Men call it Love."—Heine.

"I have seen God. God is Love and God cannot be defined. Our mentality will always suffer for being unable to sound the depths of love. Love is God's spirit suffusing two people to become as one."—H. L. Singleton, Atlanta, Ga.

"God is Love, Love is infinite; and until you feel Love, you can have no conception of the infinite."—Richard S. Bacon, Los Angeles, Cal.

"Love is the regard held for each other by the opposite sexes in the moral desire to propagate our kind."—Raoul de Tramont, San Francisco, Cal.

"Love is the lasting result of true temperamental affinity between two persons, or of such a state of congruity in their characters and general qualities, as renders possible an association beneficial in every sense."—H. E. Griffin, San Francisco, Cal.

"Love is but a folly of the mind,
From everyone demanding toll,
Yet nothing greater can we find,
For it stirs the passions of the Soul."
—B. E. Falsom, Easton, Pa.

"SABOTAGE"

The word "sabotage" is new in the English and French languages and others. It is so new that it is found in only the most recent dictionaries and encyclopedias as means the doing of malicious useful mischief or damage.

"Sabotage" is derived from the French word "sabot" (pronounced "sa-bo," with the "a" as in "sofa"), meaning a wooden shoe. The connection between sabotage and the wooden shoes worn by the peasants and working people of France and other countries is as follows: Some years ago, when there were labor disturbances in France, the strikers found that they need seek no further for weapons than their own feet. The heavy sabots proved to be a most effective implement for smashing windows and inflicting other damage on the property of the employers. Now the word "sabotage" is used in connection with other troubles than those arising from labor disputes. "Sabotage, sniping and bombing have been carried on in the ruhr for many weeks," said an editorial writer.

AN AMAZING FACT

in the use of "Wyandotte" DETERGENT is that the thoroughness with which it cleans not only brings about an unexpected freshness and revived beauty to equipment long since dulled and stained by improper cleaners, but it also makes unnecessary the frequent use of the Cleaner itself, for after WYANDOTTE DETERGENT has been thoroughly used, the mop and clean water alone will be sufficient for some time to keep your surfaces in a condition of

Japan To Rely On Self For Rebuilding Of Zone Devasted By Earthquake

Premier Yamamoto In First Interview Details Plans For Reconstruction Work—Political Situation Presages Prompt Action By Diet

(Exclusive China Press)

Tokio, Oct. 28.—The earthquake has brought about an understanding between Japan and America which the ablest men of both countries had previously attempted diplomatically, Premier Yamamoto today declared in the first interview which he has granted a foreign newspaperman since he assumed the premiership.

Discussing Japan's plans for reconstruction of the zone devastated by the earthquake disaster, the Premier said that the nation intends to rely principally upon her own resources for rebuilding. This is the first time which this intention has been officially expressed.

"The government intends primarily to draw upon our own economic resources for reconstruction of the stricken districts," the Premier said, "but the government is conscious of the fact that consummation of this work depends to some extent upon the sympathetic assistance of countries friendly to Japan.

"The Japanese people, in engaging in reconstruction, are determined to adopt the most modern methods, based upon the latest scientific knowledge as well as the valuable experience gained from the catastrophe."

OUTLOOK AUSPICIOUS

Present political developments improve the possibilities of hastening the government's reconstruction program. It is learned on good authority that the cabinet's progressive program will include a plan of extending the franchise, formulated for the purpose of furnishing a "Big stick", with which to force the opponents of the government to approve the reconstruction program under the threat that otherwise the government will appeal to the people.

Making reconstruction part of the progressive program thus gives to the Yamamoto ministry an excellent leverage in view of the growing popular demand for universal manhood suffrage and other items on the program.

Approval by the Diet is necessary before the reconstruction work can be carried out. Hence, a political element enters into the situation, necessitating drastic measures by the government in order to overcome the obstructionists. The greatest problem is to determine who will pay the enormous bill for the reconstruction of Tokio.

FINANCIAL ISSUE

The progressive elements are demanding that the Imperial government pay at least half of the cost, in view of their extensive interests throughout the city, whereas the reactionaries are insisting that the municipality shoulder the burden alone, which is said to be unreasonable and contrary to methods maintaining in capitals of other countries. Hence, the issue is really a financial one.

The Seiyukai, the majority party, which represents large land holders and financial interests, is opposing government assistance in the reconstruction work. The cabinet is receiving the support of the minority parties and the general public, presaging a victory for the latter and speedy approval of the Diet and launching of the actual work. Otherwise, Tokio will be forced to remain "a city of shakes" for many years.

Tokio is remarkably free from debt, and in case it is necessary that the city shoulder the burden alone, it is not doubted that it will easily obtain large municipal loans abroad. However, it is considered unjust to expect the residents of the stricken capital to foot the bill in order to permit the people in unaffected parts of the empire to reap benefit from the disaster without suffering.
